Blog relaunch!

Hello! Welcome to the new website for the Glimpsing Gembles Blog!

My name is Gemma, or Gembles, as my little brother calls me, and I am so excited to have you here!

This site is here to bring you various posts; from recipes I create, to book and product reviews, to ideas for living a fulfilling life. Dealing with chronic illnesses is a part of my life, so experiences surrounding this will also feature (because let's face it, living with health problems is no walk in the park, and we could all do with shared venting, support and advice!).

I have been blogging for about 2.5 years now, and the site was in need of a facelift! I am so grateful for all of your support so far; the old site has had 28, 221 views as this post goes live, so thank you very much for taking the time to visit! I really hope that you enjoy the new look, and I would love to hear your thoughts, suggestions and advice!

I look forward to getting to know you all if you are new, and checking in with my old faithful readers! Please say hello via the comments, email or social media, and tell me a bit about yourself!
